Bon Meade Second-Graders Portray Famous Americans

Students in Roseanne DeLatte's second-grade class at Bon Meade Elementary portrayed noted historical figures in a "Famous Americans Museum" on May 18 in the school's gymnasium.

Each student selected a famous United States citizen, researched and drafted a paper and wrote a short speech about their chosen person. Students then posed as their subjects like wax figures spread across the gymnasium floor and recited their speech when a visitor pushed their "button," enabling them to speak.

Famous Americans represented by the 22 second-graders included Neil Armstrong, Abraham Lincoln, Orville Redenbacher, Sidney Crosby, Mary Lou Retton, Amelia Earhart, Neil Armstrong and Mia Hamm among many other selections.
