Bon Meade Students Remember Their Past Year

Bon Meade first and fifth-grade students display their personalized books.

Bon Meade Elementary School fifth-graders produced personalized books to remember their final year of elementary school this spring, while Krystyn Palsa's and Natalie Fratangeli's classes created storybooks to commemorate their first year of elementary school.

Students compiled work from throughout the year including poetry, stories, illustrations, author information and more for their hardback book that will hold memories for years to come. Fifth-grade families will receive their child's unique book on June 5 during a special Meet the Authors Day. Fifth-grade teacher Emily Talmage implemented the program.
