MAMS Sixth-Grader Tops More Than 240 Competitors at Math Competition, Team Finishes Fourth

Jacob D'Antonio placed 10th in a Nov. 21 Calcusolve Competition at Duquense University.

Jacob D'Antonio, a sixth-grader at Moon Area Middle School, finished in 10th place out of more than 250 other fifth and sixth-grade Allegheny County students at a Calcusolve math competition on Nov. 21 at Duquense University. His performance is Moon Area's best in eight years of competition participation.

To retain his placing, he was required to answer a special question that tested accuracy and speed with four other students. His correct response earned him a trophy and a top 10 finish.

Jacob and teammates Rocco Maue, Yuki Adams and Dylan Morris also bested 58 other four-member teams ending the competition in fourth place.

The competition, hosted by Upper St. Clair's Boyce Middle School, required teams of four students complete two team problems and seven individual problems under time restrictions. Moon Area students compete in Calcusolve events throughout their entire secondary careers.
